From Pierre Smit, Coordinator

Dear Parishioners,

Epiphany is a beautiful celebration. For the first time Jesus is revealed to people who are not Jews. This celebration brings everybody together. It tells us that every human being shares in the same inheritance as a son or daughter of God. It tells us that Jesus was born for everyone. But that does not mean that the barriers that divide people have disappeared. We still see divisions in the world and in our country, divisions that are based on race, ethnicity, religion, nationality, and wealth. All these divisions reflect the separation that exists between people and God. As Christians, we are all called to bring about love and healing. May all of us work to build a world that is free from all division, exploitation, war and violence!

I would like to thank you all for your generosity to your church during the Christmas Season. May the New Year be a year of blessing!

Fr. Jose Shaji
